Agricultural Adjustment Administration

May 31, 1940.

Dear Committeeman:

During March your State Committee asked the county committees to submit suggestions for the 1941 Farm Program. 659 out of 879 committees submitted recommendations to their respective State Committees. These suggestions were summarized by your State Committee and the summarization forwarded to this office along with all the recommendations. These State summaries have been compiled into nine groups which include 249 different suggestions. No doubt you will be very much interested in this compilation.

On June 13, 14, and 15 we are holding a North Central Regional Conference in Chicago of farmer fieldmen and State Committeemen to make suggestions and recommendations for the National AAA Conference in Washington, D. C. on July 10, 11, and 12. This compilation of your suggestions will play a very important part in determining the recommendations that representatives of the North Central Region will make to the National Conference.

In general your recommendations were of a nature which would require little change in the present program. We agree with you that no great change in the present farm program is either needed or desirable.

May I take this opportunity of expressing my sincere appreciation for your continued effort in helping farmers to attain more soil conservation, to secure their fair share of the national income, to stabilize and maintain adequate food supplies for consumers, and to attain a more satisfying rural life.

Very truly yours,
